“ Godspeed to Bob and condolences to Jennifer... as well as to Bob's children. Bob was a great man... and more important to me at least, always amusing -- both on purpose and sometimes accidentally!

Gilia and I have missed seeing him in recent years and are very sad at his passing. Be well and aloha all.

“ Bob was a leader among leaders in periodontics. His gift was to investigate, take a stand, and provide the data to support that stand. As such, he rose through the ranks of our profession. Bob never looked at an easy way. He looked at the best way. Even in retirement, Bob continued to serve our profession inspecting dental offices to assure compliance with the highest standards. His legacy serves as an example of a level of service that we can and should strive for.

“ My husband first went to Dr Ferris in 1979 and never quit. He was recommended to us by our periodontist in Illinois. When we moved here, little did we know his office was a couple of blocks from our house and when he moved to Deland my husband drove there every 6 months to his office. He was such a great Dentist and helped my husband's teeth so much. He always had a smile and a funny store to tell. Even though I wasn't his patient I would go to Deland with my husband and he always came out to the waiting room to say hello to me and wish me well. He was such a intelligent man and a great assess to his profession. Our hearts go out to his family and especially Jennifer. He will be greatly missed by everyone that knew him. God bless

“ Soon after we first arrived in Orlando, July 4, 1976 I introduced myself to some of the local dentists. One such dentist said to me that perhaps the most important dentist I should meet should be Bob Ferris. He was right. We had dinner with Bob very soon after that. The food was great and his wit and humor pervaded the evening as we discussed sports, politics, philosophy and of course dentistry. Our friendship grew from that day forward and Bob and I would continue to meet after work on many occasions for our important "life's workshops." We became good friends and a powerful trust ensued. Bob was a mentor whose direction had influenced my career. His character and larger than life persona provided many wonderful lasting memories. My wife, Judy, and I will miss Bob. He has lived a great life, raised outstanding children and encouraged countless dentists to exceed all expectations personally and professionally.

We clearly remember helping him achieve the position of Second Vice President to the ADA. It was a joyous time and just one of so many of his accomplishments to his credit.

There is an emptiness in our hearts as we mourn this great man. We extend our sincere condolences to the Ferris family for their loss and wish to thank them for sharing their patriarch with us for these so many years. Frank and Judy Addabbo, Oct. 10, 2020

“ There have been a handful of people who truly influenced my life, and Bob was one of those. I will always be grateful to have been able to call him friend. I was always in awe of his professional abilities, both clinically and in the selfless way he devoted his time to our dental organizations, but my most important memories are much more about the person. I was lucky enough to laugh with Bob, cry with Bob, and muddle through this wonderful thing we call life with him. His intellect and insights always made for wonderful conversations, his humor for delightful distractions, and his caring and humanity as reminders of why we are on this earth. Bob was one of the “good guys”, and I will miss him deeply.

“ Thanks to Bob for being the emergency contact for both my son and daughter while they attended Stetson University. My son shared the love of history with Bob. His greatest gift to all of us was being a mentor. I gained from his advice often, as did many others. I have a feeling he is still doing that.

As an educator, practitioner and philanthropist, he was a perfect guide for those who followed and, especially, to those who benefited from his subtle signals along the way. “ Dear Ferris Family

My sincere condolences for the great loss of precious Dr. Ferris. I was employed in his office in Maitland, Florida, for nearly a decade, starting in 1979. The lessons I learned in dental hygiene and patient care from a compassionate level is integrated in my years of experience because of Dr. Ferris's insistence on the Golden Mean of provider care.

I last spoke with him when practicing in Taos, NM, three years ago.

He asked me: did you teach dental hygiene?

Yes, I replied.

I could feel him smile through the phone.

It wasn't about me teaching, but that his teachings were sent through another generation of students and into the core of the dental profession. I am glad to be a part of that legacy.

Blessings to Bobby and Leah, and all that remember our wonderful times in celebration.

“ Robert (Bob) T. Ferris was a brilliant man who approached life with humility. He was a mentor to many people throughout his life, myself included. He was generous with his time, smart in business and philanthropic for causes he believed in with no real desire to hog the spotlight. Dr. Ferris had a sparkling wit, and enjoyed a good laugh even if it was at his expense.

His professional activity spanned the entire spectrum of dentistry, both to his specialty of Periodontics and to the profession as a whole.

Bob and I began our relationship through activities with the Florida Dental Association. Over time it deepened into such a trusting friendship that he referred to me as his "other" brother which flattered me to no end. We spoke regularly about everything; things both important and unimportant.

In our last call, he talked about how proud he was of his children, Leah and Robert and of his grandchildren whom he so adored. He loved Jennifer for the care and attention she gave him during the time they shared. Bob knew what was important in this life and knew his was a life well lived.

He often said his hope was to leave things just a little better than he found them. I know that he met that goal, and overshot the mark.

Finally, speaking of "over shooting" I believe Dr. Ferris is in heaven right now, finally able to work on his golf game.

Loved by so many, you will be missed.

“ Dr. Ferris was a great man and a staunch advocate for the profession of Periodontics if ever there was one. He helped volunteer his time to not only help teach me as a resident many years ago, but was also instrumental in helping me open my first practice. My professional career would not be where it is today, without the help and support of Dr. Ferris. My condolences to his family and loved ones.
