“ Consuelo, we are deeply saddened and very sorry to learn of Angel's passing. He was special and loved by many around the world. My heart is so heavy.

I adored Angel the instant that we met, and I'll always cherish my memories of him. From spending time with Marc and me while we lived in Orlando, to having the pleasure of meeting you, of him visiting us when we moved to WV, and keeping in touch for all of these years. I hope that you are surrounded by love and that you find some comfort.

“ What I always admired most about Angel was his irrepressible curiosity. In my conversations with him, I always found that I had to rethink my conclusions because his questions would unsettle what I believed to be decided. I will miss him greatly.

Angel was a very nice young man whose life ended long before he was able to make his contribution to this world. We corresponded for more than a decade and finally met last May in Richmond, California. He was in person exactly as he was in writing: polite, friendly, well-informed and curious about the world. The Angel I knew was a person of inner strength. Even in the face of having lost his job and being forced to move, he remained cheery and optimistic about his future.

My sympathies are with his surviving family at this very sad time.
