“ Deborah Bradford - Family Friend posted a condolence Skip, I didn't visit you that often, but when I did you were always the fun-loving guy a grew up around and loved. I knew my dad would have wanted me to say a few words in your honor. When I think of Skip, I remember his smile and his laughter and his calm manner. I think back to how our families grew up together, how we were always just across the street from each other. I can still see a picture in my mind of Skip and my dad sitting in the backyard together, talking and laughing. You never knew what they were carrying on about, and they always had some little project they were cooking up, but what I always saw is that they were amused, and in high spirits, and just enjoying the moment. And it was the same if there was just the two of them, or if we were all together, Skip was just that way

“Denise - daughter posted a condolence Mom I know Dad was your one true love, but you have five others that are here for you. I know this is going to be a difficult journey for you, but you are one of the strongest women I know. We will always be there for you and love you very much. Dad is special and even though he has transitioned in the physical sense, he will surround you in the spiritual sense. You know Dad and I had good spiritual conversations and believed a lot of the same beliefs as myself. I know he is happy now because he can protect and take care of you now and that's all he really ever wanted. He loved you very much. You have seen and been through so much but because of your love for your family and Dad you have made your way through it and with our love you will get through this difficult time too. I know it won't be easy so take our strength and know it will all be o.k. We all love very much and thank you for being my mom.

“Denise - daughter posted a condolence Shawn I cannot express how proud of you I am and I know that Dad is too. Dad loves you so much you are his son and a great one at that. I love you so much. I thank God everyday for you. I am grateful to have you as my Brother I don't know what I would do without you. The kids think you're the best Uncle and know they are lucky too. This is a difficult time for all of us and we need each other for strength and love. It is a time to celebrate Dad's life, the gifts he has given to us and to rejoice that he is healed now. I will always be there for you, always, and so will Dad. I love you and we will get through this together.

“ Denise - Daughter posted a condolence Dear Dad, I am so so sorry. I was not here for you but I was always with you in spirit. You were everything to me. You were the "fixer" of all things. The fixer of my cars, toys, and my heart. I see you in my minds eye awake, alive, breathing the freshest of air, joyous with nanny and pop-pop and all of you are surrounded by the loving light of God. You have given me the gifts of your soul and wisdom because of those gifts I am the person and parent that I am today. Thankyou for being my dad and I was always very proud to be your daughter. I will miss you immensely and remember you always, I will always remember your sense of humor and how you used it to lighten my heart. I am happy for you that there is no more suffering. I guess God was listening. I am not sad for I will always hold you close. Nothing is ever lost in spirit. I truly believe that I love you. I love you. I love you. We all Love you! Denise
