

Barry Ira Cowen

October 27, 1950 - February 4, 2021

Barry Ira Cowen passed away peacefully after a short illness on February 4, 2021

Barry was born in Chicago, Illinois on October 27, 1950. The only son of Ben and Shirley Cowen who predeceased him. He is survived by his sister, Susan Coleman (Terry), his uncle, Burton Ditkowsky (Eileen) of Chicago, Illinois and cousins Lynn Szymkowiak (Dennis), and Daniel Ditkowsky.

Barry worked in the trade show industry for many years and then in the entertainment business (Disney) until his retirement. Barry was an avid reader and a movie buff. He loved his dogs, the ocean and watching football games with his friends.

“ For my friend Barry,
Barry was a good friend that would help you in any way that he could. He always loved a good movie and a cold Landshark beer.
Rest in peace my friend, you will be greatly missed.
Sincerely, Rick Henning

“ How common is it to know someone for 50 years and also claim to be friends? From the Student Union blaring rock n roll at the old Valencia campus on Oak Ridge Rd. Hopping in the roadrunner, going to Rossi's for a sub in between classes. Fun times indeed. Many stops along the way. To end up in that little house in the country on a lake with his books and DVDs, he seemed to be content. He turned me on to many of his favorite authors. Gonna miss you Barry. R.I.P. A candle was lit for you.
