“ I worked with Bruce at EA a few years back. He came onboard to manage our worldwide team and we all knew from day one that he was going to be a great leader. He brought us all into Orlando for training not long after he arrived and showed us a GREAT time. Not only was Bruce a great co-worker/mentor, but his honesty and willingness to put the needs of his team above his own was the sign that he was just a damn good human being. Not long after Bruce left EA he called me to see if I would come work for him again out here in California, with his new employer. I told him that I'd work for him again in a second, but the commute would cost me too much time away from my family, so I had to respectfully decline. I've never forgotten what he said next... “Professionally, I'm disappointed but I appreciate you considering the position. As your friend... I can tell you that is the BEST decision you'll ever make in your life. Family should ALWAYS come first.” Words that I will remember forever. RIP Brother, we're all better people for having known you. To the Kreimeier Family and Friends, my sincerest condolences. You are in our thoughts.

“ Bruce,
Thank you for your guidance and leadership over the last 2.5 years. All too often, we tend to take for granted the people who inspire us or make a positive impact in our lives. For me, you were one of those people. I'm thankful to have had the opportunity to call you a mentor, and I'm grateful to call you a friend. Rest in peace.
