“ Carol and Norman Healy were very dear friends of my parents Thomas and Delores Davis. They shared many good times together and I got to really know her after my Mom passed away in 2021. We talked on the phone and talked about funny stories that she and I shared about my parents and Norman that each other didn't know. She was a wonderful and lovely person and I'm sure the world was a better place with her in it. I didn't know that she worked with giraffes at the Central Florida Zoo. That sounds really cool! I know she loved her stepchildren and grandchildren very much. Her charm and gentleness will be greatly missed. I only wish that I could have known her even more.

And I know one more thing and that is I'm sure she is excited to be reunited with her husband Norman for Eternity!

Farwell Carol and don't forget to look up my Mom and Dad! They will be delighted to see you.

My deepest sympathies to all her family and friends at this very sad time.

“ Carol was always such a great lady. Dignified. Polite. Charming. Everything a real lady should be. But when the family invited her to play Cards Against Humanity, a game that you win by being the grossest, uncouthest person possible, Carol dug right in. I thought she was going to pull a muscle laughing. And the kids still talk about listening to Carol, of all people, saying words like a$$ and bxxbs.
