

Cedric Arthur Henry

December 4, 1953 - April 11, 2026

Cedric Arthur Henry was born on December 4, 1953, in Penal, Trinidad, to Wilfred Jones and Pearl Henry. He passed away peacefully in Orlando, Florida, on April 11, 2026. Cedric was a man of Protestant faith.

In 1986, Cedric relocated to Brooklyn, New York, where he began building a new chapter of his life. After years of living and working in various places, he eventually settled in Orlando in 1999, which he proudly called home.

Cedric was known for his creativity and strong work ethic. A true handyman, he possessed a remarkable ability to fix, build, and create. He spent much of his life working with his hands, becoming a trusted and dependable “jack of all trades” until his retirement. He was preceded in death by his parents, Wilfred Jones and Pearl Henry, and his brother, Martin Gomez.

Cedric leaves behind a legacy of love through his children: Darryl Fraser, Aaron Henry Sr., and

Alex Henry. He is also survived by his six grandchildren—Neka Fraser, Darnyl Fraser, Arryiel

Fraser, Azaria Henry, Aaron Henry Jr., and Isabella Henry—who will carry forward his memory.

He especially showed his love for his grandchildren through his cooking, creating meals that brought them together and left lasting memories. He is lovingly remembered by his sister, Carol Mascall, and his lifelong best friend, Russell, whose friendship spanned over six decades. Cedric also leaves behind a host of dear friends who became family and will continue to cherish his life and legacy.
