

Charles Alexander Richardson

July 17, 2015 - July 17, 2015

Charles Alexander Richardson came into our lives in the best possible way, through love and God's grace. Just 5 months into marriage our family of two was growing! We savored every moment. Taking an early anniversary trip, Charlie had his first international family vacation, tucked safely in Mom's growing belly. Always thinking our little one was a boy, we took to calling him "Baby C" until it was confirmed. Soon after, Charlie became "Thumper" because of the strength with which he bounced around. He has been an absolute joy to parent. Charlie knew Dad's touch and offered hearty kicks and flips to amuse him. From the moment of conception, Charles has given us a new understanding of love and life. Sadly, after 21 weeks or vibrant life, Charlie went to be with the Lord long before we thought he would be called. What joy has this little one brought us. Our little boy, brings us so much joy. Our little man, held by God's hand. We love you, CAR. We look forward to holding you in our arms again.

“ All the conversations and photos and dreams of Charlie and Brave growing up together make me that much more eager to meet our little guy one day. Sad that we have to wait, thankful that he is with the Lord and we will join him.

“ What a beautiful website for Charlie, Alexia. Donald and I and the kids remember the joy you and Matthew shared with the news of his life inside of you, our hearts are heavy with you during this time of grief. As you look to Him who is able to give you a peace that surpasses all understanding, we are standing with you and praying for your family. We love you all so much.

“ The first time I felt Charlie move was on June 16th, Grandma Rose's birthday. A solid thump above my belly button. Only 16 weeks along, I doubted it at first. But, those little bumps kept coming. On July 4th, Dad felt Charlie move for the first time. Already a charmer, Thumper continually won our hearts. Be content in God's arms, Charlie. We miss you terribly and will hold you once again.
