“ We will always miss you. The kids are holding up well as the reality is setting in. School started back this last week for K and J, it's good and keeps them focused. Kay is happy to be a junior this year and Jesse is so excited about how different middle school is. The night times are the hardest part when it's time to settle down and be alone with our thoughts. This is when Amber especially has the hardest time missing you. More than anything they wish they could hug and kiss you and say I love you, even just one more time. We know you're in heaven watching over us smiling down. The precious voicemails you left us are a great comfort as we get to listen to your voice sending us love. Love never ends - we will see you again.

“ I met Chris when he was 16. Everybody was hanging out at Lk. Katherine, in Chuluota that summer. He was with another friend, Mike McClung. He immediately pulled into his charming personality with that great smile and those beautiful blue eyes. I saw the two of them off and on throughout the years. At one point Chris met up with me at a restaurant in Orlando where I was attending an end of the year luncheon with fellow teachers. I hadn't seen either of them for a few years. He asked me if he could get my phone number because he thought Mike would want to get ahold of me. I gave it to him and not only did Mike contact me, a few months later he asked me to marry him. Chris knew he cared for me all those years and was the guiding force in getting us together. Been married 24 1/2 years now.....thanks Chris for caring! I love you, dear friend, and will miss you terribly. 💜💜

“ Besides being a amazing friend since elementary school, my most touching memory with Chris is knowing he was sick, but when he found out I'd lost my oldest child and he made it his business to come see me to make sure I was okay and to offer me comfort, because that's the kind of person he was and that's part of the reason I had so much love for him and I'm going to miss my friend dearly 😭😭😭. “ Ingrid: I am so sorry for your loss. I am blessed to have met Chris when you needed a helping hand and a smile. The love and compassion that you have shown to me in the years I have known you was amplified when I saw how you cared for your son. I am sorry that I will not be able to attend his service Saturday since I am on travel but I will pray for your strength, to ease the pain of the rest of his family, and for Chris' peace in the Kingdom Of God. Much Love. Linda McCafferty and Family.

“ Chris and his family are our family by choice. I have few memories of my visits to Florida without the Smithson's in it. We all just rolled into each others homes like we belonged.... LOL we did and they did.... He was just a little kid when my folks moved here and I was a grown up married woman. Well married anyway. I don't have many memories of him at that time. He was just always around like my baby brother and sister. I had the opportunity to get to know Chris after moving here in 2000. He had a lovely family and soon started his own business. Mostly saw him round the holidays and family events... Oh and he would pop in on my mama now and then and she always enjoyed his visits. They would just talk about everyone they knew and some they didn't I am sure. After mama passed and we moved into the house he would pop in on me now and then too. Always with a big hug and some stories about what and who and where was going on with the peeps we knew. I really appreciated those little surprises and will miss them. Rest in peace Chris and may your family find peace and comfort in the coming days.

“ I remember when I first met Chris. We were both in our early 20's. His friend introduced me to him at his job at MacInerny Ford. He had long hair and the most beautiful aqua blue eyes I ever seen. Drove a black Bronco with a Lynnyrd Skynnyrd sticker on the back window @ lived in what I called the sticks (Oviedo) which it was at the time! That was my first memory and there followed many after. Many, many years have passed and my heart is sad today. But I know that God has brought a very beautiful, loving and caring spirit home. I have no doubt Chris is an angel for each of us. You ask how can One angel be for each of us? That's because Chris' love for us was that big.

“ Christopher was my best friend. I will miss him everyday of my life. He was a wonderful friend who made my life better just by knowing him.

He loved his family so much as we had many long conversations about the loves of his life....Angie, Amber, Kaley and Jessie....Many face to face conversations and just as many telephone conversations. His family was the biggest love of his life. I remember when I first meet him....Amber was only about 3 maybe....he would come in the office to call her. I can't count how many times I heard the ABC's recited. It was precious and when she would sing I would see those beautiful blue eyes light up....it warmed my heart. I thought this was not just a proud papa, but a man who truly received joy and extreme happiness from his fatherhood.

I remember when he was starting the other love of his life....Kringle....he wanted to name it..."The Ulitmate Erection" - I said Christopher you can't walk around with that on your shirts. He said well a lot of people call me Kringle - there became Kringle Ultimate Erection and Auger Service, Inc. (sorry I had to share this).

Too all that knew Christopher as I did - consider yourself blessed.

Love,hugs, kisses and strength to his beautiful family.

Christopher, I miss you! I will see you soon in that peaceful field of buttercups...I love you!
