“ We crossed path once at Nellis AFB, Las Vegas, Nevada sometime between 1985-86. I was stationed there and he was TDY. We had a few drinks and laughs, then off into the night we went. Later in life, he was stationed at Offutt AFB, NE and we happened to live south at McConnell AFB, KS. We traveled north in the spring of 1993 to attend his son Brian's high school graduation. Again we laughed, joked and then went back to the routine of everyday life. So the story goes, after we both retired, cruising was the number one fun event and that is where we seen him the most. He really was a character and always had an opinion. He would appear stern but most of he lines would end in a course laugh or "That son of a B*" chuckle. Maybe other people didn't see him that way--- as a fun, joking, get-a-long guy but he was a straight shooter, a quality now-a-days that some people lack. He will surely be missed by all. Our deepest condolences go out to Arlene and Brian, while we offer our strength and support during this time

“ Dan and I were served at Hickam AFB, Oahu, Hawaii together, about 1979-80. Those U.S. Air Force years ended up being formative and important to my eventual civilian career as a systems/software engineer. Dan was a part of a very special team of guys and gals that worked on one of the nation's most important strategic intelligence systems. Because of his technical expertise and excellent people skills, Dan was chosen to be part of a smaller innovations team that shepherded in new technology to replace our legacy system. I remember him as someone who was both a dedicated worker and an enjoyable guy to be around. May God bless Arlene and family during this time of loss. He will be missed.

“ Dear Arlene and family,
We were so very sorry to hear about Danny. He was the first person we met when we moved into Kenilworth and became not only your next door neighbor but great friends. We loved the time we spent on our balcony talking to Danny and we'll miss not seeing his smiling face everyday 🙏
We hope that he's enjoying a beer in heaven....where they never run out!
With our deepest sympathies and our love,
