Daniel was a wonderful human being and friend in the truest sense of the word. He was my support system during some of the darkest times in my life when I had no one else. I was in dire need of major surgery in 2008; Daniel not only urged me to schedule it, but was sincere in his offer to stay with me and my two older children afterward. There was a time he barely knew me and spent his last $60 to put me in a cab when I was stranded without a ride home.

Daniel encouraged me to go to school once he completed his degree. I'm so glad I followed his advice. He was an old soul, a wise person, and a "tech nerd" who enjoyed learning new things. I was amazed by his ability to pick up a new interest and teach himself how to master it. I still have the CDs of dance music he mixed for me.

There isn't a day that goes by where I don't miss Daniel. He was intelligent, generous, creative, and kind. I feel his spirit with me as I write this, and wish I could tell him today how special he was to me. Always be the best friend possible, and let people show how much you love them while you can. By writing this, I hope anyone who knew Daniel will have a greater understanding of how selfless and caring he was.
