“ Brenda, I am so sick to read David's name in the paper. I had no idea he was sick; I used to volunteer for hospice of the comforter for years, until Alan's dad got sick. After he died, I started working for the funeral home, Baldwin Fairchild. That is where Todd, your funeral director worked when I started. No matter how many funerals I work, it never stops me from feeling so badly for the families, especially when they are young, like us, and younger. You guys had such a great marriage and young David is a fine young man. You should not be going thru this, it just doesn't seem right. why don't the bad die young and the good go on. It's crazy. I am thinking of you and praying for your strength to keep up, as this is a whole new world for you. Man, 35 years married; you're amazing. Bless you and maybe I can be there for you at 6pm, Palm. Sincerely, your old NJ co-worker. Melinda##imported-begin##melinda##imported-end##
