“ Deborah....what a real time beauty, so many crowns will she receive as she made an eternal difference in the lives of many, including my own. The first time I met Deb I was so broken and hopeless, she let me borrow her hope and love...loving me until I could love myself. Remembering her strength, laughter, love, and adventuresome spirit. Remembering how much she loved the sun, the beach, the woods, all of it. I am so grateful to have shared many of those moments with her, She allowed me to tap into her heart as we discovered together the gifts that God had placed inside of each of us.I am looking forward to dancing with her on the streets of gold some day! She did love to dance with that twinkle in her eye. Deborah has piece of my heart forever. My heart goes out to all of the family as I can only imagine the how your hearts are hurting. I don't think she would mind if you borrowed her hope and love even now, I love you Deborah Randall (and she would respond, "I love you more")
