Debbie

In my 7th grade and you were in 8th. We became friends. Over the years I had hoped we would see each other again. But my health kept me from being able to go back home again. And now you're gone. I will always miss you. And I'm so grateful to God to know that your love for Him was strong. You are with Jesus now and have no pain. Someday I will see you again. I love you

“ My dear Debbie,
I know you are with Kim now. I can't believe it's been over forty years since I first met you and your incredible family. I can still see you riding your bike with the wind in your hair. All of us swimming at hidden lakes pool. Laughing and not having a care in the world. A million times we walked to the bus stop. I wish you and Kim peace and laughter as you look down on Lisa, David and your mom with pride. Fly free my friend. I shall not say goodbye for this is not the end..
Instead I can't wait until the day I see you again. ❤️

“ I met Debbie back in middle school, that is where we spent a little time together as friends, sleep overs, going to the beach, talking about boys. We lost touch, Seeing her name or the mention of her name I remember my first thought has always been her smile. The last time we spoke was on the phone in 2010. Long time, but sitting here today I can hear her laugh and I remember while talking to her I pictured her smiling, just as I do today. She will be forever loved and missed.
