“ I grew up with Don’s daughter, Nicolette. He was always happy and kind during the many hours I spent at my friend’s house. Their home was like a refuge for me.

Nicolette and I worked together at a Pizza Hut in high school...a good 20-25 minutes from our home. There was a big snow storm, and we were both scheduled to work. I knew my car would not be able to handle this snow. Most employees had cancelled their shift...snow storm was schedule to be bad. Mr. Kirkendall, Don, said, “They’re depending on you two girls...I will drive you and pick you up.” Being from Ohio, he knew how to handle himself in snow (plus, I believe he had snow tires). It was a great example of his kindness, dedication, and tremendous work ethic. His daughter, Nicolette, is the same. I learned a lot that day.

“ Don was an honorable person, an outstanding audit professional, and a trusted advisor and counselor to executive and operating management. It was a pleasure to work for and with Don on several quality assurance reviews of internal audit activities.

Don will be missed by many internal audit professionals who he guided and influenced over many years. He has justly earned his eternal reward. Goodbye, my friend.

“ Our friend and colleague Don was a life long associate going back to the England of the mid 1960s. Don was for me a trusted colleague and a wise friend who always seemed to be there when he was needed - way back then and later in Air Force Audit and ultimately in The Institute of Internal Auditors. My deepest condolences to Ann and his family members. We will miss him but know he is at home with peace.
