“ I was so fortunate to work with and get to know Ed at AT&T. He was a wise supervisor and a kind gentleman with a great sense of humor. Always thoughtful of others, he was a good listener and easy-going! He was proud to share news of his son and family.

“ Although I am Ed’s ex wife, we became best friends. Too late some would say, better late than never is what Ed and I would say. I miss time with my best friend, our laughs, walks around the mall, going out to eat (after he would find the perfect coupon), traveling, going to the beach, watching A Christmas Carol with Alastair Sim any time of the year, his thirst for knowledge and his love to share it with everyone, the list goes on...

I met Ed in 1979, more than half my lifetime ago. A lot of good memories and laughs fit in that time span and I will remember those times with smiles and love in my heart. He was a great father, son, Ampa, brother, uncle, and friend to many. He is already missed very much but knowing he is no longer in pain helps me find comfort. I rejoice in knowing I will see him again.
