He graduated from St. Edward's Elementary, Junior High School, and St. Raphael Academy in Pawtucket. He then graduated with a Business & Accounting Degree from Providence College. After graduating, he became the Controller at Memorial Hospital in Pawtucket, RI for several years where he met and married his wife, Betty. He retired from his career as an accountant at Our Lady of Fatima Hospital in North Providence, RI.

He had two sons, Mark and his wife Angela, and their son Joshua of Sanford, FL, and Brian and his wife Ashley and their son Nathan of Cranston, RI, all of whom he loved dearly.

He attended daily Mass from a young age. After moving to Lincoln, RI he became a Catechist at St. Jude Church and St. Charles Church in Providence, RI. When he moved to Florida, he taught Religious Education at Nativity Catholic Church in Longwood and was involved with a Prison Ministry for Seminole County.

From a very young age, Ed enjoyed sports, both participating and watching all the New England professional sports teams. His greatest desire, and with great enthusiasm, was to watch his alma mater's Providence College basketball team crush the opposing team.
