“ We met back in early 80's when the boys were little boys. I learned alot from Ed about dealing with adiversity, that life was full of unknowns, and that you had to be ready for whatever it gave you. When he and Gail married they invited several couples to meet with them on their honeymoon, it was a houseboat ride none of us will ever forget. You will be greatly missed, hopefully some day we can ride that big boat in the sky. “ I meet Ed while he was Director of Respiratory Care at Cook County Hospital, Chicago, while I was a manufaturer of Respiatory Devices many years ago. We would often meet at conventions and talk about lots of interesting things. Ed was incredibly committed to each of his children and always expressed how proud he was of them. Ed was extremely brilliant, a committed leader of conceptual innovative advancements dedicated to better patient care. Ed you are being missed by all of us who had the good fortune of knowing and enjoying you wisdom. We all loved the very presence of both you and Gail. God Bess you both.##imported-begin##Walter & Theolynda Levine##imported-end##

“ Dad,

My only wish is that I made you proud. I know we had our differences, and I am sorry for every fight we ever had now. These last few years have been hard for you and I only wish I had done more. As a parent and father, I have learned so much about how your life must have been. I love you dad.

“ Edwin was one of my dearest friends and has been for about 35 years. I looked up to him as a man of his word, a man who loved his family and cared for his friends without prejudice. We worked and played hard together... he will be remembered always and lives on in me until I join him some day. He was and is my friend. I Loved him as a brother, I celebrate his life.##imported-begin##Jay Brumbaugh and family##imported-end##

“ The world will not be as much fun now, but go now and liven up the next for those of us who will follow some day. I will miss you and our conversations that could have solved all of this world's problems if they would have only listened. I will never forget or stop loving you. Goodbye for now, Ed. Until later...
