“ Elliott, you will always be remembered by me as that sweet, happy baby brother, with those beautiful eyes, that could be so mischievous...It will forever make me giggle how enthusiastically you first told me about the Spice Girls before I ever heard of them. I loved how you could be so funny and clever with such a straight face. I am eternally grateful that you found me and that we had some family time together. I'm so happy that you and Alba found each other, and that she and Gabriel are family and that you have had such loving people around you throughout your life. You will always be my loved baby brother and I can already imagine you making that dry expression and saying something unexpected and humorous. I love you, my super smart, stubborn and sweet little bro.

“ The moment we met I knew we had a spiritual connection, I used to call you my sweet sunshine. It feels like in this life and the past one we have always been connected. We respect each other in every single way. We always gave each other the freedom to live life without judgment. You always will be my best friend, always will I cherish and honor our friendship in every way possible. I miss you so much, I'm going to miss your phone call every 2 hours to know if you are okay or not. We will see each other again when the time comes. Like you told me, we will be far away but very close in our heart and memories. Give Lazaro and Anne Marie a hug from me, and have fun in paradise. With love, Alba.

“Many a memory that comes to mind, flooding the thoughts still stuck in time. In heaven with peace, a place to be free. In heaven he sings “a place to be me.”

“Dear Elliott, thanks so much for your friendship, loyalty and support during the ten years that we worked together! We shared laughs and even cried together when you shared about the accident of Alba's son. Alba was an angel in your life. I'm so glad you had her all along my friend. I'm glad you're no longer suffering. Much love my friend!
