“ I truly loved your mother. We were coworkers and friends. She called me her daughter and I called her my mom. I miss talking her. She was very wise. 🌸

“ Aunt Freda was one of a kind. She said what she felt and meant it. She didn't have a judging bone in her body. She was a 2nd Mother to me, and I will forever keep her near and dear to my heart. She always kept me lifted up, when others were so quick to put me down. I will continue to love her all the way to heaven, and that love for her will always be in the very middle of my heart. She is my Angel watching over me. 🙏🙏👉👉👉👉

“ My mom, Elma Jones, was born in Jamaica, BWI and moved to the United States when she was 10 years old. She graduated from Hartford Public High School in Hartford, Conn. in 1954. The following year she married my "Pops," Henry A. Jones. Together they had four sons; the late Michael A. Jones, Paul T. Jones, David H. Jones and Andrew S. Jones. Other family included Mary and Lorna Brown, Nevill, Ashman, Tony, Michael's significant other, Janice Riddick, granddaughter Ashley Roan, soon to be born great granddaughter Sarayu, Christopher, Patricia and many other family and friends.

My mom was a loving, generous and compassionate woman who was a gifted nurse on and off the job. I remember a time when we were kids that if we said we were sick, she can tell if we really were or if we just didn't want to go to school!! She valued hard work and education. She was an example to us and to her many friends who knew her.

*She leaves behind a legacy of faith in God, strength of character, kindness and joy. She is quoted in her high school year book saying, " Kind hearts are more than coronets." She will be missed.--

Mrs. Jones will forever I hold a place in my heart ❤️. I met your mom at BCI. She was the most funniest, generous and loving person I've known. Today I tried to reach out to her because she had been on my mind and to share good news... she too called me her daughter...often addressing her cards "your other mother." I am so glad I had the opportunity to know Mrs. Jones. I was sad when she moved from Miramar to Orlando. I was happy to hear she was happy in her new place. She will always be a beautiful soul to me gone way to soon or sooner than I expected. God Bless her family as she rest in love ❤️🙏
