“ My Grandmommy was always there!!!

She was a woman of natural beauty inside and out !! Her family and friends were her life .

She enjoyed life to the fullest even the last time I saw her she was dancing !! What a sense of humor ! to be a grandmother she stayed up with the times and what we were all into at the time !! She had a lot of grandchildren that she loved each and everyone of us the same great grands and great great grands . I was fortunate enough to be the second eldest of her children's children so that meant I got to spend a lot of time with her. To this day there are traditions that I have passed down to my children and are passing down to my grandchildren and they all will know Grandmommy and my dad David and sugar pa Stan . Grandmommy was a woman to look up to ! And to model my life by ! Grandmommy always loved me for me no more no less I was her Melonie as she would say . She took me to church, school Disney and shopping but most importantly she got me ears pierced even after mom said no... lol she swam and played with us and let me play in her jewelry and clothes and always had something planned and if there wasn't an outing we were just as content to sit and talk and watch TV and do girly things ! Always with a great big smile and a hug and even if we were too big to sit on her lap she still wanted us to ! I let her sit in mine lol always so Petite but such a firecracker and full of life with the heart of a giant tackled life Through all its trials and tribulations and took it one day at a time never wavering in her faith in the Lord that she would see all her family in heaven

I pray that we all continue to spread her love and joy to the world and always remember her smile .she was a daughter a wife a mother etc .. most importantly she was my grandmommy always there to help and listen and give advice or just make me laugh. She will be greatly missed. she passed away at 90 years of age god blessed this earth with his angel that long he decided he wanted her to come home and be blessed in all his riches in glory !! I know she is in a better place looking down and watching over us all ! Please remember she would not have wanted a lot of crying and carrying on she never wanted us to fuss or worry over her she was tough as nails .. one of the best people I know and that's not just because she was grandmommy she was kind and loving to everyone !!!! Please keep her faith in god and her smile in your hearts as we go about the day and the rest of our time on earth. Love to you all family and friends My Melonie
