

Fred JBrown

October 7, 1963 - November 14, 2016

Fred J. Brown, 53 of Orlando, Florida passed away on Monday, November 14, 2016. Mr. Brown was born on October 7, 1963 in Cleveland, Ohio to Fred and Mildred Brown.

Tribute Wall

KA

“Freddie was my nephew by marriage to his Uncle Terry. When Freddie was born, Terry and I were dating and I remember first meeting him and thought he was one of the most beautiful babies I had ever seen. Those big brown eyes, dark complexion, and that huge smile would melt your heart. As he grew older and we visited Fred and Millie, I will always remember those big bear hugs he would give you. I told him he needed to teach his Uncle Terry how to give those hugs. He has had a hard life, but with the love and support of his parents and family, he was able to live in a home that he loved for many years. We love you Freddie and I know you are happy in your new home and giving all those with you those big bear hugs. I hope you are able to order milkshakes and French fries. When I go outside and look up at the sky, I will think of you and remember your laugh. God bless you Freddie!”

Kathy - November 17, 2016 at 05:16 PM

CS

“*Freddie was my second cousin, the memories I have of Freddie are so amazing & loving & full of laughter. I didn't get to spend much time with Freddie since I have gotten older but the memories I have of him when I was younger I will keep for a lifetime. My favorite memory of him was when my mom, dad & I went over to my Aunt Millie's & uncle Fred's one weekend. Freddie was sitting there watching TV, I bent over to give him a hug & a kiss & as I was doing that he looked at me grabbed me & gave me the biggest hug & so many kisses the love you felt from him was just Impossible to describe. As guilty as we can be in wanting our loved ones to stay with us forever, I know Freddie walked through the gates of heaven up above & is having the time of his life, but always looking down on us & checking in to make sure we are keeping up the love to one another that he instilled on us with wanting nothing in return. God bless you Freddie you were, are and always will be loved forever!
We miss you!
Love always,
Your cousin Chantael*

Chantael Smith - November 17, 2016 at 05:35 AM

TB

“ Freddie was my brother. I don't know how to let him go, but I would be selfish to want him to stay. He had a rough life and deserves to be in paradise now. He had taught me so much in life I don't even know where to begin. He taught me to enjoy life and appreciate what I have. He taught me how to understand people and treat them with respect and kindness. He basically taught me how to be a good person. He had given me so much joy over the years, I hope he is getting that back in tenfold now. I have so many memories, and I am extremely grateful for that. One of my favorites is when I was young and i would say a "bad" word. He would say "ahhh tell mom.....Mom!!!". Then he would giggle so loud and for so long. I hope you're giggling now, Freddie! I will forever love you and never stop missing you. You can now be the angel that comes to visit.

Tawnee Brown - November 15, 2016 at 01:46 PM

DD

“ Freddie was my cousin, I have so many wonderful fun memories when we were younger, he would always grab your head and give you a big kiss. That was so special. He had a difficult life, but, was so loved by so many. I know that he is with family now in Paradise, and surely deserves his "wings." No more pain, you can walk, and talk, and run, and eat as many cookies as you want ! I am quite sure Gram is holding you now. To my Aunt and Uncle, Bless you and always remember we will all be together again someday. To my Aunt Millie, who has always been so there for me, and took such wonderful care of Freddie and her girls. You have always been an inspiration to me and surely will be rewarded for your love. Also Freddie would give you the biggest, tightest "bear hug." Love you Freddie, I know that you are watching over us too !
Your, Cous, Diane

Diane Donkersloot - November 14, 2016 at 02:00 PM