“ Chris Smith - Friend/co-worker posted a condolence I worked with Gary on and off for over twenty years. He was there when you needed him - calm, competent, and assured. In an emergency he led the way and we were always grateful to see him. He enjoyed good natured teasing and he was fun to be around. I know we will miss Gary at work for his skills and ethics, and we will miss him as a friend. He was a good guy with a good heart I'm glad I got to know Gary better.

“ Donna - Wife posted a condolence Gary was a kind, thoughtful, knowledgeable, funny, and honest man. Gary was a forgiving man; he had the ability to take responsibility for his emotions to deal with situations accordingly to be a part of relationships that was important to him in his life. Gary’s greatest contribution he made in other’s lives was his wanting to make sure everyone else was taking care of, giving what others needed, and doing what others wanted. Ultimately, Gary relinquished his life here on Earth doing something that was personal and worthy to his own well-being. In parting I leave you with this, always live each day the way you want to be remembered if we miss you tomorrow.
