“ Kathy Capitano - sister posted a condolence Gary, I'm convinced that it was your strong will to live that helped you survive these last five months. We were all so proud of you! The sorrow I feel cannot be explained because how do you deal with someone dying the way you did? When you died a part of me died too. It breaks my heart to lose you, but you're not alone, a part of me went with you. Even though you're gone, you will always live on in the hearts and memories of every life you touched. It's so hard to say good bye. I'll never forget you brother. Your loving sister,Kathy

“ Karen - Sister posted a condolence What is a Brother A brother is someone we turn to when we have things to share and also someone to lean on to make our burdens easier to bear. A brother is someone we cherish and count on for everything,he is always there for you so much happiness he will bring. A brother is always there when our tears are about to fall. He will use his loving hands and wipe away them all. A brother is a gift from God he placed you and I together. For this my brother I want you to know you'll be in my heart forever.
