“ Britt I remember the day you were born and standing at the nursery window with the nurse holding you up so your dad and I could see you. That was the beginning of our love you relationship. The years y'all lived in the same general area we all did I watched you grow till you were around 12 and moved to Florida. I remember all the times we will got together for holidays and had some really good food to eat. You loved to come to our house to see Kavin and Lea. I remember when y'all lived on Coro Lake and the other Lake house in Fisherville that was shaped different. Then y'all moved to our neighborhood and we saw more of you. I loved you always and when you were on your own and your folks had moved to Utah I wanted you to know I loved you always. You were special to me. Love. Your aunt Nancy

“ I remember Thanksgiving Day dinner at at your house Joni when Eddie came with me and met "all the McKee family side together" for first time. Britt became fast friends with Eddie and was at his side for the afternoon. Britt was most taken with Eddie allowing him to see and play with his real hancuffs. Remember Britt called them "handshakes". Eddie thought Britt was so cute and looked forward to seeing him more often. When it was time for Eddie to leave and go to work Britt walked out side with us and you took that sweet picture of Eddie and me with Britt proudly standing in front of us. I still have that picture in the locket Eddie's mom and dad gave me at Christmas that year..1973. I recall that memory more often than I can count. All of us together that day was a precious gift to us all. Lynn

Lynn, that was such a sweet recollection of our time together and how Britt fell in love with Eddie on Thanksgiving day, 1973. I too will never forget that day as one of our family's best. Thank you for sharing the good and bittersweet part of the story.
