“ Rick
My dad taught me everything about being a man taking me on construction jobs from when I was a small boy, fishing camping , how to bbq and some much more. He got me my first job which a had very successful career. Dad you where a great father and i will miss you.

“ In loving memory of Grandpa Bryson,

I will always remember our time together. You and grandma were there so much for me when i was young, you always had something new in the big chest of toys that I would spend all day playing with while you were napping in the recliner (will always have that memory of you leaned back elbow over your eyes). I remember the time you helped me make that awesome soapbox derby car for boy scouts, and will never forget the awesome bear rug in the office. I am going to miss those delicious roasts that you made for every holiday. You were a man of very few words, but what you didn't say with words you expressed in actions. I will never forget you grandpa, and the next time I'm in town I will be sure to pick up a happy meal for pixie for you. I'm sure that we will meet again one day, but until then you will be missed and i will always cherish our memories together.

Love Greg

“ My Grandfather Gerald Bryson,

I will never forget the times I spent as a child growing up with you and Grandma. The giant chest of toys, trips to the flea market, your office with the bear carpet that quite frankly scared the crap out of me as a child (thank you Adams Family Movie that Grandpa had on VHS for that fear), and days of playing the old Atari game console bring back so many fantastic memories. You were always a man of few words, so I will keep this short and sweet. I love you Grandpa and I will always have the fondest memories of spending time with you. You have created a beautiful family, with amazing sons and daughters, who have had their own wonderful children who will continue the same. You have set a foundation for a great family. Without you none of this would exist. We will continue on your legacy and you will never be forgotten. Again Grandpa I love you, I will miss you, and one day I will see you in heaven with Buffy, Casey, and any family members who may passed before me. Until we meet again.

Your Grandson,

“ To our beloved Father and Grandfather. Your strength and determination to continue to fight despite all of your health challenges was an inspiration to us all. Even though you lost the battle, we find peace in knowing that you are no longer suffering. The void you have left in our lives will be filled with all the memories you have given each of us. We love & miss you, Debbie & family.

“ To the man that has shared many birthdays with me...I will always add that extra candle to the cake- to celebrate you, your life and the memories we have all made along the way.
I will miss you, but your legacy here on this earth will not be forgotten. It will carry on in the hearts of your family, including your children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren for generations to come.

Thank you for those early morning fishing, and the overnight shrimping trips. You caught them and Mom and the girls cleaned and cooked them! Quite the arrangement--but good times!

Thank you most of all for the loving family that you and Mom created. We will all watch over each other here on earth, until our time comes to join you again.

I love you Dad-

Rest in Peace.

“ I know I gave you a run for your money as a teenager but that is why god sent me your way, he knew you could handle it. I know we butted heads growing up because we are a lot alike but I think the last few years we became pretty good friends. Thanks for taking good care of me and I couldn't ask for a better dad...you fought to the very end...now its time for you to be pain free and healthy...Tell everyone hi for me up there and keep us safe down here. You will be truly missed. I love you.

“ In loving memory of a father, grandfather and a great grandfather. You will be missed and never forgotten. We all have sat by your side for the past few weeks and watching you suffer and it was the hardest thing I have ever done and I am glad you are in a better place now and worry free. Saying goodbye was the hardest thing for me to do even though it's just for awhile till we can be reunited it was still hard and brought tears to my eyes. I will always love you. I remember spending weeks at a time over the summer growing up and going to the flea market with you as well as going shopping or going to fast food restaurants with you to get the dog a cheeseburger. Now in heaven you will be reunited with all your dogs that have passed. You are all in a better place now. I know you are up there now looking down on us and keeping us all safe. We will look after momo for you and make sure she has everything she needs as I know you are doing from above. We all miss you dearly. You told me to take care of Emma and I will! I want you to be happy. Death leaves a heartache that no one can heal but love leaves a memory no one can heal. I love you pepa forever and always!

“ To a loving father, grandfather, and great grandfather. You will always be loved and never forgotten. We may have had to say bye but only for a little until we can be reunited. I still can not believe you are gone nor do I believe I ever will. You have always been there for me as I was for you. I sat by your side for the past few weeks and watching you suffer was the worst feeling in the world. Saying bye was the hardest thing to do. I remember spending weeks at a time growing up during the summers at your house, going to the flea market, picking up fast food just so the dog can have a hamburger or just doing simple things like going to the grocery store. No matter what was going on in your life you made sure your dogs were happy and eating good. Now you can be reunited with them up in heaven. As you said make sure I take care of Emma and I will. I know you will be looking after each and every one of us. We all miss you! I love you very much! We will all look at momo for you and make sure she is well taken care of just as you are looking after her from up above. Fly high. Death leaves a heartache that no one can heal but love leaves a memory that no one can steal. Rest in peace pepa.
