“ Hi Papi, I know it's been a while since I shared anything but don't think for a moment that I've have forgotten about you. Not one day goes by that I don't think about you. We lost Jose on Tuesday 10/16/18. We were all there until the end. He went peacefully. He says he wanted the same wishes as you so tomorrow we say our final goodbyes. It is so hard on all of us but especially on Mami. I don't know how we gonna get through tomorrow let alone the holidays. Keep an eye on him, I know that he's in GOD's loving arms and that one day I will be ble to see you both again. Happy 80th Birthday Papi. I know I'm a week late. I miss you so much. Love you always PapiChulo.

“ The eulogy that I wrote and read for my Abuelo:

First I would like to thank everyone who came today to pay your respects to my Abuelo. He would have been pleased to see so many of his friends and family there today. Whether you knew him as husband, dad, Papi, Abuelo, Tio, or friend, you probably had the same level of appreciation for him that I did.

My grandfather was a great man. When I think about him the words that come to mind are: hard worker, caring, humorous, faithful, respectful, serious, strict, authority figure and family man. When he spoke, people listened. These are just a few words that come to mind, but it is impossible to summarize how great a person he was in words.

My earliest memories of time spent with my Abuelo, we're having our jam sessions. He'd be shirtless with the guitar and I with the tambourine in my white tights. My Abuelo was such a jokester. I think his favorite prank would be every around New Year. He would tell you that "somebody called for you" or "somebody came to see you" and when you'd say "who" He'd laugh and say "El Año Viejo". Not many people have the opportunity to see their grandparents frequently, but I thank God that mine lived right next door to me the majority of my life and I was able to see him almost everyday. I'll never forget the days when he & my Abuela would babysit me, and whenever they would scold me, I'd cry & scream that they didn't love me because I was black, but I know that he loved me as he did all of his grandchildren. I didn't fully appreciate it then, but looking back it was really wonderful how much attention he gave us.

I am going to miss my grandfather's jokes, his wisdom and love. One day in the future we will meet again in heaven. Until then I will pass your wisdom down to my children and future grandchildren. I want to thank you for being such a wonderful grandfather and a wonderful person to me, your family and friends. We will all miss you and love you always. Gone, but never forgotten. This is NOT goodbye, simply see you later. Te amo mucho Abuelo, tu nieto Bubu.

“ This has been the hardest thing that I've ever had to do. Saying my farewell to my dad. My Papi Was always strong, strict, a disciplinarian, hard worker, and a good provider. He taught me good morals, good judgement, respect, discipline, and most of all LOVE.. He was a good man , although sometimes difficult. He was an honest man & a good friend. He would give you his last dollar. He loved all of us.

I don't know what I'm gonna do without him. I miss him so much. I feel like a piece of my heart is missing. Papi you will forever be in my heart & in my mind. You were my Hero. Heroes are not suppose to die. Papi I love you so much. This is not goodbye, but until we meet again.

“ Expreso mi más sentido pésame a la familia Figueroa, el amor de German's esposa, sus hijos e hijas, y nietos y bisnietos se revela en sus comentarios y los videos preciosos. Que dolor más grande se siente cuando ya no podemos abrazar a nuestro amado familiar, y en este caso un hombre con tanta familia que lo querían y todavía lo harán con todo su corazón. Aunque mis palabras no bastan para traer mucho alivio, las palabras de Dios si lo pueden hacer. Recuerdan que tienen como fortaleza “el Dios de todo consuelo, que nos consuela en toda nuestra tribulación” (2 Corintios 1:3,4) y que pronto se cumplen las palabras de Hechos 24:15 “de que va a haber resurrección así de justos como de injustos”. Pronto “se tragará a la muerte para siempre, y el Señor Soberano Jehová ciertamente limpiará las lágrimas de todo rostro” (Isaías 25:8) “y la muerte no será más, ni existirá ya más lamento ni clamor ni dolor” (Revelación 21:4). Las palabras de Dios no se pueden dudar, así que la esperanza de abrazar y besar a su querido German puede ser una garantía. Su familia estará en mis oraciones y espero que estas palabras les pueda traer el consuelo que necesitan para seguir adelante con fe.

“ I am trying to be strong but reading posts and seeing videos hurts to realize that you are gone. Everyday I woke up acknowledging that any day you would leave us, but kept my hopes alive that I wouldn't have to go through this pain. You were such a strong person inside and out. You always came back, why did you have to leave now? I was planning on visiting you soon, just not this way. Grandpa I love you and miss you more than before maybe because I really won't see you again until it's my time to go. I believed that you would always stay strong, why was this time so different? My daughter made you an icon on her Wii today. I wanted you to meet my son, the prince to my family. I am sorry he wasn't able to meet you.

“ Dad I have many thinks I want to say to you but most of all I love you. I wish I was by your side at your moment of departure. This is so hard on me because I wanted to be by your side till the last moment but I wasn't there. I regret many choices I had to do when it came to your medical condition like placing you in the nursing home. I know you hated that place. Dad I love you. I thank you for who I am today and I would do it all over if I had to. Helping you to get off your wheelchair to taking you to dialysis or even brush your teeth. You were my dad and it was my duty to take care of you just like you took care of me. Papi te amo.

“ Abuelo, I love you & miss you. I just wish I was able to say bye & Bendicion one last time. Although you aren't with us physically, I know you're with us in our hearts. I know you up there holding Jesus' hand watching over us. I bet you are happy to see all your kids, grandkids, great grand kids, and family all together. We love you and we'll see you soon...
