“ Ghislaine, you are a great mother, great grandmother and a-great friend, but for me you are my sister. You could always put a smile on my face and I miss you and our time together. Love you Laine. R.I. P.

“ My thoughts and prayers are with Laine's friends and family. I met Laine 20 years ago when She worked in Seattle with my Grandfather. We would go into the conference room and write on the white board about how we were going to make the world a better place. We stayed in touch over all these years. We would write each other letters and send cards for every holiday. Even as an Adult, I could always count on Laine putting $25 in my Birthday cards. She was a dear friend of mine and a beautiful soul. I was very blessed to have met Laine, and will miss her greatly. ❤️

“ Laine – A Celebration of a Life Well Lived

There are so many wonderful and beautiful gifts Laine gave all around her. No matter how deep of connection you had with Laine, the impressions she left you with were genuine and heartfelt. Here's but a short list of my fondest moments of Laine:

- Laine's smile was gentle and her joyful laughter was infectious!*
- Laine had that innate ability to make those around her feel welcomed, valued and appreciated.*
- Laine had a lightness and energy in her step.*
- You knew when she entered a room because you could sense the positive energy which shined from her.*
- Laine knew how to raise beautiful and healthy houseplants. Not a surprising skill as she was a "nurturer" of life and shared it unselfishly with others.*
- Laine made the best lemon bars. And I enjoyed plenty of them!*
- Laine was deeply spiritual and routinely read from 'The Course Of Miracles'. She'd share her insights and takeaways with you especially when discussing difficult topics. And whenever the answers were unclear, she'd give you her encouragement and hope.*
- Over the years, I dropped the title of "step mom". In my heart, Laine was my 2nd mother.*
- Relatable.*
- Loving.*
- A true angel who lived amongst us.*
- Joyful.*
- Grateful.*
- Beautiful outside, and a hundred times more inside.*

When we last spoke while she was in hospice, she said: "Don't be sad for me, Tony. I'm at peace and I'm ready for the next stage of my journey."

And although there will be undeniable feelings of loss, I intend to fulfill her wish by focusing on all the wonderful gifts she bestowed upon me...her joy, her laughter and most of all her love.

Love,

Tony

“ To celebrate the life of someone who held such a powerful presence in my life- Laine. From a very young age, she stepped into my life and her energy was nothing short of magic. It wasn't just her warmth or kindness, but the way she elevated you, made you feel seen, and held space with such deep love and acceptance.

I often credit her with igniting my spiritual curiosity and dedication to meditation practice, as she embodied those values so effortlessly. I can still hear her say, 'You know, Jana...' right before she was about to offer some profound insight. Every time she spoke, you knew she was meeting you with complete presence, and that whatever she said next would be just what you needed to hear.

Her energy was like a comforting blanket, enveloping you, lifting you, and reminding you of your own inner strength and light. She had this ability to create moments that felt like pure joy—whether it was something as simple as Christmas shopping at the mall , enjoying her famous lemon bars or coffee at the Mukilteo coffee company. Every time I was with her, I left feeling lighter, brighter—just more whole.

Though she is no longer physically here, I carry her with me every day, in my heart and in my mind. The lessons she shared, the love she poured into me, and that energetic light she held—it's all still here, guiding me. And in a way, I can still hear her voice, reminding me that I am never truly alone.

She inspires the work I do with people every day. The love, acceptance, and presence she brought into my life, I now try to offer to others as I help them heal and find their own strength. She showed me how to hold space for others, and I am forever grateful to her for that.

To everyone who knew her, we are so f$@$ing lucky to have experienced her presence, and today, i honor the incredible love and light that she brought into my life. Her spirit will continue to uplift and inspire me as she always did.

I love you, Laine.

“ *A wonderful mother to son Mark, and was there for big and small moments in his life- so proud of him in Peter Pan. She though he was a great John!
She was also a loving friend to me and my daughter Jamieson for forty years.*

“ I am honored to be a part of this Celebration of Life for a most special friend and beautiful spirit. Laine was a neighbor of mine in Palm Coast where she lived for several years. We instantly became friends and shared so many lovely times together, Laine was a most generous, caring and fun friend. We shared a love of cooking, many recipes (and a few cocktails), and long talks about just about everything in the world. I will cherish our times together, always bringing a smile to my face when I think of her. So grateful to have met and experienced the sheer joy and beauty of Laine. In my heart forever, my dear friend. (Sheila Mellody)
