“ I first met this great man in the fall of 1965. Through out all the years to follow, I would come to call him Mr. Corley, Dad, Harrell, then Granddad, after Erika was born. Though circumstances took us in different directions in life, we always remained friends and in the last several years, my husband, Larry, and I would have the pleasure of getting to spend much more time with he, Lila, and Chrissy. We will forever treasure these times. Harrell's last words to me, just two months ago, is that we are "family" and would always remain so. Harrell was a kind and generous man and he will forever be missed by all who loved him. Larry and I send our deepest sympathy to Lila, Chrissy and all the family and our prayer is that God will wrap his loving arms around and surround them with peace and comfort.
All our love and deepest sympathy,
Larry and Linda Gail Carter

“ I remember when my oldest son, Kenny was born. Hal and my husband's mom, Lila had just started dating. So, Hal goes to the hospital to see Kenny and realizes he doesn't know our last name. So, he asks the nurse to just show him the cutest baby in the nursery and that would be ours.

“ Harrell was the best big brother a little sister ten years his junior could ever ask for. All through my growing up years he was very sweet and protective of me. When our first child was born with mental defects, he was most supportive of our fam. He sent us money to Colorado in order to fly our very sick son home. His generosity not only to us but to many others was certainly his way of life. I'll miss you, dear brother and will once again meet you, our parents, brother Donald, sister Clarice when I inherit the prize I have at last received for my meager efforts in this life.
