“ What can I say about my father? A lot of thoughts come to mind. He was an amazing man. My father was a minister without a church. He said, Florida is my church. He and I (His first daughter) spent many years delivering groceries to people in need throughout the Central Florida area. His calling was to "Feed the people." He never asked for anything in return. I wish there were more people in the world like him, unfortunately people like my father are few and far between. The world will be a dimmer place without him. I will try to carry on his legacy, I don't know how, but I will try.
