“ Steve was a fantastic humorous author and storyteller. We met in the People to People 2004 Storytelling Delegation to South Africa. His outgoing, friendly personality commanded the room. He was a leader in keeping the art of storytelling alive and well in the South. I was fortunate to have our paths cross and receive his expertise in guiding my writing into a published book. He was a gifted humorist and well loved by those who were fortunate to have seen and heard him in action. We miss him.
