“ To Jeff’s family and friends: I’m terribly sorry for your loss of Jeff. He has been missed at work since going out on medical leave and continues to be missed.

As others have mentioned here, Jeff certainly had a love for life and knew what was important. He and I talked more about life outside of work than we did about anything related to work. Jeff was a good person and I appreciated his strong faith and his choices even when they may have been difficult for some to understand. It was clear to him how he wanted to live his life. On two occasions while in Orlando for meetings, Jeff took me and other co-workers to the parks, even getting to Animal Kingdom before it opened so we could go directly to the safari ride and not have to wait too long. It is comforting to know that Jeff is no longer stressed, overwhelmed, hurting or in any pain.

I will try to attach photos.

“ I found out about Jeffrey's death today and I would like to express my condolences to his loved ones; I'm sorry for your loss.

I will miss Jeffrey's love for life and his enthusiasm, he was always so excited. He took me to the Holy Land Experience which was an amazing experience. His love for God was like his love for life so much so that his email address was choosetolive! He will be remembered for his generosity and fortitude. I'm glad I knew him and I hope to see him again in heaven.

“ My most sincere condolences to Jeff's family. He will be dearly missed by all of his family and friends for a very long time because of the impact he has had on all of our lives.

Jeff's smile and enthusiasm for life was contagious. I can't remember a time that I spoke with him that he was not excited and passionate about something in his life whether that was an upcoming event or something he had just experienced. We often shared stories about visiting Disney or Universal or any number of work related activities when we saw each other walking in or out of the Orlando facility to the parking lot. I always enjoyed talking with Jeff no matter the subject. And I always appreciated his wit and sense of humor.

Jeff was very smart, very efficient, and very helpful to others at work. I remember one meeting in particular where I mentioned I needed a particular report to be able to answer a question posed by one of our leaders and about an hour after the meeting ended Jeff sent me an email with all the information I needed, sorted, duplicate data eliminated, and some additional information he thought may be helpful to me for my analysis. He volunteered to set the report up to run monthly if that would be helpful.

I always walked away from a conversation or meeting with Jeff with a smile on my face feeling lighter and happier. That is how I will always remember him.

I feel blessed to have known Jeff and for having the opportunity to work with him and talk with him since he moved to Orlando.

“ Jeff and I started at Sanders in Nashua at about the same time. We worked together off and on throughout our 20 years at LM. Before he moved to Orlando he and I (and Paul Mondoux) traveled together a lot to various LM sites to train site admins, so we got to hang out quite a bit not only during the workday but after hours as well. On one particular trip to Orlando in Dec 1998 our planned two-week trip turned into a three-week trip, so to help unwind we spent a weekend at various Orlando attractions (Universal, Animal Kingdom and Arabian Nights). If it lets me, I will post the photo from our day in Universal to the Photos & Videos tab.

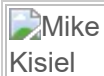

Jeff was incredibly sharp / smart, funny and he had an amazing sense of humor. His stories always made me laugh and I enjoyed eating out with him (his appetite was legendary). :)

To Jeff's family, I am so sorry for your loss. Jeff was a great person and he will definitely be missed.

“ Jeff loved going to the MCWE conferences, he would tell me how people thought he was crazy for spending his vacation time in a christian conference. When he would feel God's presence and feel the joy of God He would say "They probably think is like a catholic church service, kneeling and standing all day! It is not like that at all! They have no idea how fun this is!"

He started speaking in a heavenly language in one of these conferences and he would laugh for hours when the spirit of God came upon him. He is always upbeat and happy guy and he stands by what he believes, he taught me a lot, and he was always there for me. I admire how frugal and how faithful he is, I know he is more alive now than ever, and I pray his family realize the joy he is experiencing now and may rejoice with him. Will always miss you, until I see you again my best friend Jeff.

“ Lucky to know Jeff as a neighbor, co-worker and Friend. It was clear that he was very committed to his Faith, his Family and the Theme parks. Always enjoyed having conversations with him, getting his opinions and seeing his passions. He was smart about his money and did things right, a definite role model.

I envy his strength in dealing with things and for his conviction to his decisions. The fact that he remained so positive throughout...amazing individual!! I am humbled...

It is very unfortunate on what happened to him and my condolences to all that are directly affected by his loss. I do not think he truly understood how many people cared so much about him.

“ A great friend. I had worked many times on his car for him. I attended First Baptist of Orlando with him. He took to me to lunch many times. He and his family are in my thoughts and prayers at this time. Your friend and buddy, Greg Priewe.

“ To the family, I am so sorry for your loss. Jeff worked for me back in Nashua at Sanders. He always had a real passion for his job and the people he worked with and really seemed to enjoy life. I was sad to see him move to Orlando because I knew I would not get to work with him more. On the occasions that I had to visit the Orlando Lockheed facility I would try to make a point to visit him just to chat and see how things were going for him. He truly loved the move to Florida and I would always tease him to come back north, which he would have nothing to do with! Jeff was a great guy and while I haven't seen him in a while (I retired a few years back) I think of him often. His passing is a great loss to all of us.

With condolences,

“ Oh Jeff...our local team get together will not be the same without you. We will make sure Dan schedules them no later than 6 pm...we know how hungry you would get and had to eat early. Perhaps that was the reason why you would eat not only your order but whatever was left over on our plates. Haha...seriously you will be sorely missed by us all. We have spent many years working together as a team and you have been always been a gentleman (even when you didn't agree :) . I have never known anyone whose faith was as strong as yours. I Thank God he was with you through it all and opened his arms to you. You are in the best hands now. You will always be in our hearts!!!
