“ I first met Jeff in 1984 or 85 when a mutual friend and I stopped by Jeff & Rosie's place in St. Petersburg.

We each quickly discovered both of us were originally from Northern Ohio and both huge Cleveland Browns fans, back when that actually meant something. A few weeks later, I dropped in to Clancy's Bar in St. Pete and there was Jeff with Rosie at his side cheering on the Browns. I quickly joined them and the party was on.

The party pretty much continued for the next 25 years. Through the moves out of St. Petersburg which eventually took Jeff and Rosie to Maine, we stayed in touch and got together when we could. Jeff was a valued member of the Sebring Crew, our yearly gathering of male bonding and car racing.

No matter what the size of the group, with his hearty laugh and big personality, he was the one who stood out. I can't ever remember a time we were together that wasn't filled with laughter and fun.

I will miss my friend and rememeber him forever.

“ Over the past few weeks tons of memories with my dad filled my head. Like when Monday night football would come on how excited he would get. he would run around the house chanting." Are you ready for some football." And he loved music. he always had music playing. Dad use to love play a song on the radio and try to see who could guess the name of the artist or song .I used to like playing his records. he loved rock and roll. I'm going to miss not being able to call him with questions about cars or homeownership, or pretty much anything. my dad was one of the smartest people I know. and eventhough i didn't always agree with his opinions or his advice, I know he only had the best intentions when he gave it. and I will always cherish everything he has taught me, and everything he has done for me. I love you dad. Love your daughter Tara.

When Dan & went down years ago to see you two, you both had a lot on your plate - yet you took the time to show us around at Downtown Disney. Jeff was a fun loving man, and you both were clearly in love with each other. In spite of everything that you've gone through, he found the time to laugh, tell jokes, and be a gracious host. I am so sorry to hear that he is gone. Rose, you have my deepest sympathy! Anita*

I never got to know Uncle Jeff as well as I would have liked to because of how far we all live from each other. But I know he will continue to live in my heart. May he be at peace now. Rosie I love you wish I was there to help you now. Know that I love you all.

*Dear Rosemarie,
I'm very sorry for your loss. Nothing can completely remove the pain you feel right now. But a comforting thought is found in the Bible at John 5:28,29. God promises to bring back to life many who have died. Until that time may the "God of all comfort" help sustain you.*

Rose, I am thankful that you had the many years you did with Jeff, and sorry for your loss. He was truly blessed to have someone that loved him so deeply in his life. May the days ahead be brightened by the wonderful moments of the life you shared. You are all in my prayers. God bless.
