

Mr. Jeremy Casey Cox

January 23, 1990 - October 25, 2013

Mr. Jeremy Casey Cox, age 23 of Orlando, Florida passed away on Friday, October 25, 2013 in Orlando, Florida. Mr. Cox was born on January 23, 1990 in Orlando, Florida.

Eulogy from Jeremy's Service, by his older sister Carrie:

My little brother was entertaining and fun-loving. He was always a source of entertainment from the moment he was born. In the beginning, that may not have been his intention, but nevertheless, my sisters and I were always highly amused when we dressed him up as if he was our little doll. One time in particular, we dressed him in an old cheerleading costume, put his curly hair in pigtails, and graced his cheeks with a rosy glow courtesy of my mom's mary kay makeup bag. It couldn't have been easy being the youngest child with three older sisters in the house once my older brother Kenny had moved out. Growing up in a house full of girls probably contributed to his tendency to be chatty. He always had an answer to any question, and could speak with conviction on any topic. As the girls in the family grew up and moved out, Jeremy found his place with my dad and brother, spending nearly every evening in the barn with one or both of them.

Being the youngest and separated from Kenny by fifteen years, Jeremy became an uncle when he was just five years old. He loved Zowe from the start, though they were more like brother and sister than uncle and niece.

Zowe was followed by Dallan, Kyleigh, Kasey, Savannah, Jesse, Caden, Cian, Zadie, Slate, Callum, and Jocelyn, Jeremy's pretty girl. He was proud of all of the kids, and took his role seriously. When he was sick the day of Dallan's 2nd birthday party, my mom had to tell him he couldn't go to the party. "But I love my nephew," Jeremy said with tears in his 11 year old eyes. He gave the kids endless 4 wheeler rides. Succumbing to the pleas of "just one more time."

Growing up my mom was a great homemaker. She inspired us all a great deal with her constant mopping, bread baking, snuggling, sewing, and cooking. The one thing my mom didn't do, was grill. That, my dad was in charge of. He could burn a steak better than anyone I've ever known. At some point, my mom started going to Jeremy, pleading with him to please cook her Salmon without charring it. "I paid $12 a pound for this, Jeremy. Please! Don't let your dad cook it!" "I got this, mom" he said. And he never stopped grilling. Even still, my dad would request HIS steak extra crunchy.

Grilling wasn't the only help my dad got from Jeremy. He helped build our back porch when he was just a couple of years old. He learned from my dad and was soon rewiring old houses with electrical problems, laying tile, doing plumbing work, and putting up fences. He was always available to hang curtain rods, pictures, speakers, gun racks, or anything my sisters needed. When my dad didn't have the time to help my mom put up her Christmas lights, Jeremy came to the rescue with his friend Moises. My mother alternated shouting directions and warnings to the boys as they goofed off on the roof. "I got this, mom" he would say.

Jeremy was thoughtful and kind. He was always the first one to the car to help unload groceries or the baggage of guests. Without realizing it, he made everyone around him feel important. He was giving, and always endeavored to accommodate the needs of his friends and family, whether that was a place to live for his friend Leo, a meal for whoever was around the house, or a pack of batteries for a niece or nephews toy.

Even though we thought we knew Jeremy pretty well, he is still surprising us. While trading stories at my parent's house, Jeremy's girlfriend Jillian shared with us that he loved to do the cha cha slide at work on the pool deck during shift change or even in his lifeguard chair just for fun. We laughed, and wondered how we had missed that about him. She also told us that shortly after they met, he told her my dad was his best friend. Recalling our memories to family and friends has been and will continue to be a comfort.

We will all miss Jeremy. My mom will miss her sweet baby boy, my dad will miss his little buddy. There are few things in life I feel certain about, but I know that Jeremy is in heaven today. He's looking down and watching us all. And if he could, I know he would say "Mom, Dad, I've got this."

“ 110 770 When a child dies, a parent is still tied to that child. Souls, tied together across universes. It doesn't matter the age when they passed. It doesn't matter how long ago it happened. It doesn't matter - none of it. Their souls are forever tied. That's the love of a parent.

That's the love that is more powerful than death. That's the heart that breaks and keeps breaking until their arms are filled again. It knows no discrimination based off of age, health, or time, it just is, and it always will be. Their souls are forever tied, and there's nothing that can break them.

That's the beauty of unconditional love.

“ You left us 10 months ago today to go back to Our Heavenly Father, I never, in a million trillion years thought I would be here without you. I know you are doing amazing things to help others there as you always did here. It is just so hard being here without you. You know how curious I am Jeremy, I just want to know what your doing and what it must be like for you. I'm sure you sometimes laugh at the things I do and say here because you know the answers (I believe you always knew). You were and still are such a special spirit. I truly believe that Families are Forever and we will all be reunited in Heavenly Father's time. I got your message the other morning and I know you are watching out for each of us here on earth. I'll love and miss you until I'm able to be with you forever! <3 Mom

“ Thank you, Dear Lord for my wonderful son, for the blessing he's been from the start, For hugs and proud moments, fond memories we've made, and the love that we share from the heart.... Thank you for giving him talents to use and his own special dreams to pursue, For filling his spirit with faith and the knowledge that every good gift comes for you... Thank you dear Lord, for the closeness between us, our trust and our laughter and fun, and all of the joys that are mine as a mom because of your blessing my son. I love you Jeremy with all of my heart! Love, Mom <3

“ Somebody misses your smile, the hugs and the kisses you share. The warmth in your heart, the love in your eyes, the way that you listen and care...

Somebody misses your laughter, reassuring and kind and sincere. The touch of your hand, the sound of your voice, the comfort of knowing you're right near.

Somebody misses the magic of the wonderful things that you do, the secrets you hold, the dreams you reveal, the way you make wishes come true...

Somebody waits for tomorrow, another day closer to when the hoping is ended, the wishing is over, and somebody holds you again...I Love You

Although I know you are safe in the arms of our Heavenly Father and our savior Jesus Christ, my heartache is so intense that sometimes I feel I will not be able to bear it any longer. We all miss you and love you so much Jeremy. Please be close to us and know that I long to see you and give you lots of hugs and kisses. We all do!!! I will do my best to continue doing what I can here on earth and I know you will be doing all that Heavenly Father has for you to do there. You are forever with me in my heart Jeremy! I will love you forever and ever and throughout all eternity! <3 Love, Mom*

“ *Jeremy,
Such a shy young boy, who grew up to be a kind and gentle soul.
You are loved so much by your friends and family. Your Mom not only looked up to you because of your height but because you had grown into such a loving man.
It's heartbreaking that you are no longer on this earth but I know you are now an angel for even more then you could be while here on earth. Rest in peace.

“My little brother was entertaining and fun-loving. He was always a source of entertainment from the moment he was born. In the beginning, that may not have been his intention, but nevertheless, my sisters and I were always highly amused when we dressed him up as if he was our little doll. One time in particular, we dressed him in an old cheerleading costume, put his curly hair in pigtails, and graced his cheeks with a rosy glow courtesy of my mom’s mary kay makeup bag. It couldn’t have been easy being the youngest child with three older sisters in the house once my older brother Kenny had moved out. Growing up in a house full of girls probably contributed to his tendency to be chatty. He always had an answer to any question, and could speak with conviction on any topic. As the girls in the family grew up and moved out, Jeremy found his place with my dad and brother, spending nearly every evening in the barn with one or both of them.

Being the youngest and separated from Kenny by fifteen years, Jeremy became an uncle when he was just five years old. He loved Zowe from the start, though they were more like brother and sister than uncle and niece. Zowe was followed by Dallan, Kyleigh, Kasey, Savannah, Jesse, Caden, Cian, Zadie, Slate, Callum, and Jocelyn, Jeremy’s pretty girl. He was proud of all of the kids, and took his role seriously. When he was sick the day of Dallan’s 2nd birthday party, my mom had to tell him he couldn’t go to the party. “But I love my nephew,” Jeremy said with tears in his 11 year old eyes. He gave the kids endless 4 wheeler rides. Succumbing to the pleas of “just one more time.”

Growing up my mom was a great homemaker. She inspired us all a great deal with her constant mopping, bread baking, snuggling, sewing, and cooking. The one thing my mom didn’t do, was grill. That, my dad was in charge of. He could burn a steak better than anyone I’ve ever known. At some point, my mom started going to Jeremy, pleading with him to please cook her Salmon without charring it. “I paid $12 a pound for this, Jeremy. Please! Don’t let your dad cook it!” “I got this, mom” he said. And he never stopped grilling. Even still, my dad would request HIS steak extra crunchy.

Grilling wasn't the only help my dad got from Jeremy. He helped build our back porch when he was just a couple of years old. He learned from my dad and was soon rewiring old houses with electrical problems, laying tile, doing plumbing work, and putting up fences. He was always available to hang curtain rods, pictures, speakers, gun racks, or anything my sisters needed. When my dad didn't have the time to help my mom put up her Christmas lights, Jeremy came to the rescue with his friend Moises. My mother alternated shouting directions and warnings to the boys as they goofed off on the roof. "I got this, mom" he would say.

Jeremy was thoughtful and kind. He was always the first one to the car to help unload groceries or the baggage of guests. Without realizing it, he made everyone around him feel important. He was giving, and always endeavored to accommodate the needs of his friends and family, whether that was a place to live for his friend Leo, a meal for whoever was around the house, or a pack of batteries for a niece or nephews toy.

Even though we thought we knew Jeremy pretty well, he is still surprising us. While trading stories at my parent's house, Jeremy's girlfriend Jillian shared with us that he loved to do the cha cha slide at work on the pool deck during shift change or even in his lifeguard chair just for fun. We laughed, and wondered how we had missed that about him. She also told us that shortly after they met, he told her my dad was his best friend. Recalling our memories to family and friends has been and will continue to be a comfort.

We will all miss Jeremy. My mom will miss her sweet baby boy, my dad will miss his little buddy. There are few things in life I feel certain about, but

“ To My Loving Son Jeremy,

Although you are 6'3" you are still my sweet baby boy. I love and miss you so much and I always will. I can only begin to bear losing you because I know you are safe in heaven with Heavenly Father, Grandma R and Savannah, your new pretty girl. I hope you know how much I love you!

I know you will be busy getting lots of things done until it's time for us to be together again. I love you with all of my heart and it's breaking now because I miss you so much! Thank you for all of the happy memories! You are a wonderful son and your Dad and I are so proud of the kind, compassionate and giving person that you have always been to everyone.

*Cuddle baby Savannah for me! & Give hugs to everyone! I love you Jeremy!
Until we meet again!!*

LOVE, MOM

“ My sincere condolences to the family, it is hard enough to try to put into words the emotions you are dealing with right now. True comfort can only be found by knowing the true Creator. Knowing that He hates death: he even views it as an enemy.(1 Corinthian 15:26) He has “a yearning” to conquer that enemy, to undo death by means of the resurrection. He longs to bring back those who are in his memory and to see them live on earth again-Job 14:14,15. And for the mean time“ He heals the brokenhearted; He binds up their wounds.”(Psalms 147:3). So trust that He can comfort you.
