“ The past couple of years I've experienced the passing of my younger brother and the last two of my sister in-laws on my side of the family and just last week my brother in-law on my wife's side of the family. Something we find ourselves doing is remembering them in the last stages of their life but that's not how we choose to remember them. I found a couple of pictures that really reflect who Jerry was and how we remember him. He was respectful and kind always willing to help and loved family. We will miss him! ❤️
