“ Our older cousin Johnny, as we knew him when we were young, was already an adult. We saw him rarely, yet he made a lasting impression. Strikingly handsome, with his booming, yet gentle voice, he would make a point of noticing the younger kids at family gatherings. My brother, Mike, Anderson, liked him especially, and reconnected with him when an adult himself. It was through Mike's eyes that I learned to know John, and I admired him for his accomplishments and devotion to Anne and his sons and family. My deepest condolences to Anne, to Blair, to Brent, and to the whole family, and my prayer for the Lord's comfort and peace to all.
Love,
