

John P. Lee

September 30, 1931 - November 14, 2010

John P Lee Jr, (Pop) age 79 of Longwood, Florida (formerly of Philadelphia, PA) unexpectedly passed away peacefully on November 14, 2010 with his family by his side. He was a loving husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather, son, brother, uncle and friend. He was greeted at heaven's gate by multiple family members and friends.

John was born in Philadelphia, PA, married and had a family, served in the armed forces, started his career, and moved the family to Central Florida in 1978. He worked at Brown Boveri until his retirement from ABB.

He leaves behind Margie, his loving wife of 55 years; children Ronald, Gregory and Kristen; grandchildren Melanie, Bryan and his wife Lauren; and great grandchildren Mason (3) and John David (3 weeks).

He is survived by his stepmother Henrietta, stepbrother Terry and stepsister Carol, brother Dick Barron and his wife Barbara, sisters and brother-in-law, many nieces and nephews, extended family and many friends throughout Florida, Philadelphia and the surrounding areas.

John enjoyed fishing, hunting, traveling and "going home" to Philly to visit with his family and friends. His favorite trip was to China where he met his sister and her family for the first time. He was an avid traveler to Philadelphia and Atlantic City. He loved eating in Philadelphia Chinatown!

John was a stroke survivor for 8 years but, still enjoyed a full life of living in his retirement years.

No formal services are planned. Memorial donations in his name can be made to Holy Redeemer Chinese Catholic Church at 915 Vine St, Phila., PA 19107

“ I'm so sorry to hear about your untimely loss. I know this must be hard but I also know he is in Heaven with my dad catching up on all the lastest in Heaven's Chinatown.
My prayers are with those left behind to mourn his loss. May God's loving spirit envelope you and comfort you.##imported-begin##Mary Hing-Hickman##imported-end##

“ Pop will be missed by all of us.
He will always be with us in spirit wherever we go.He always gave us what we wanted and needed and did his best to be a great father.
I remember him always waiting for us when we went fishing to check out the big ones.
Love you Pop.##imported-begin##Greg##imported-end##

“ I came so close to meeting Mr. Lee in Tampa a few months ago, but I have met his great daughter Kris and his none the less awesome grand-daughter Mel and while the artist may have departed, his legacy is in leaving a lot of great artwork on the great canvas of Earth. He lives on in the greatness of those who he touched, and in those who he left behind.##imported-begin##John Sullivan##imported-end##
