

Jomae McCain Potter

August 28, 1925 - September 18, 2016

Jomae Potter, of Winter Park, went home to be with the Lord on September 18, 2016 at the age of 91.

Jomae lived a very active and passionate life, including the love for sailing, square dancing, and knitting.

She is survived by her daughter Sandal, son Todd, and a beautiful granddaughter Susie.

A private family service will be held.

Tribute Wall

T(

“ This Eulogy was read by Todd (son) at the family service:

Here are a few things I would like to mention about mom:

- Mom was a wonderful mother to Sandal and I.
- Her independence and passions led her on many journeys throughout her life, including the love for, sailing, camping, square dancing, sewing, knitting and educating others.
- Mom's main passion was for sailing which turned into competitive racing around Florida for over 30 years. Her study of the details in strategy and sail setting were unsurpassed which lead to top finishes in her races.
- She held many officer positions in the Coast Guard Auxiliary and Central Florida Yacht Club throughout the years.
- She also loved cruising with the Central Florida Yacht club sailors, her husband Fred, and her dog Honey to many destinations around Florida. Her longest excursion was to the Bahamas for 3 weeks and I was fortunate enough to go with them.
- For almost 20 years she had breakfast and lunch at the Patsio's diner which was only a short drive for her and basically they were her second family who always watched out for her over the years.
- During the last 12 years her dog Sugar was a great companion which brought her a lot of happiness and joy.

In conclusion:

Her physical body may be have passed, but her spirit will live on for eternity.

It wouldn't surprise me if mom is watching over us now, while planning her next sailboat adventure.

Thank you mom for your love, kindness, and great memories.

We love you

*Thanks for reading this Eulogy,
Todd and Sharon Scarborough*

Todd Scarborough (son) - September 21, 2016 at 06:37 PM

JZ

Sending my Condolences to you and the entire family and friends. Thanks for sharing your fond memories of your Mother's life with us. As much as we sometimes hate to admit it, We are a result between our parents and a reflection of them as we grow in the future. As I see it, You only possess the finer and best qualities from your parents. It's a safe bet, You made them proud and comfortable in their passing, that you will survive and prosper and live life to the fullest in the future. Carry on in their spirit, celebrating their lives, take care and be safe, JZ.

James Zitis - September 22, 2016 at 10:52 AM

MD

All of us at the Central Florida Yacht Club were sad to hear the news. We are sorry we did not learn about Jo's passing until recently. So May stories about Jo, my husband Jim once did the Mug Race with her and she did not cut him any slack. She was a strong sailor. Gosh, I remember the first time I met your Mom and Dad in Sanford at the marina....had to be over 30 years ago. We loved her, she has such a sweet spirit about her. So sorry for your loss. God Bless.

Margaret Davis - January 05, 2017 at 03:04 PM