“ Served with Joe in Germany back in the 70's. I used to call him little Joe. He was a very dedicated, hard working and passionate soldier. He was respected by all whom he had contact with. Knew when to be serious and when to clown. He was fun to work with.

May he Rest In Peace in heaven for soldiers.

🙏🙏🙏🙏 Prayers to his family and friends.

I was so saddened to learn of Dennis' passing. We were classmates at Walnut Grove, and he was always a lively light and full of fun. Dennis was the first in our class to get his driver's license. At a class party at a park, he let the rest of us drive his car around the grassy park grounds as he rode with us, but he didn't tell us that the horn rim on the steering wheel was loose. It would come off when one turned the car, scaring the driver to death for fear it was the steering wheel which had come off rather than the horn rim. He would laugh out loud as the driver - one after another - panicked. Then he'd make us promise not to tell the next 'victim'.

We were so glad when Dennis came back from Florida to our 50th class reunion in 2013. I wish we'd had the chance to see him much more often over the years.

I am sorry for your loss and will keep Dennis and his family and friends in my prayers.
