“ Joe was an extremely kind neighbor and friend who was always willing to lend a hand and share knowledge when he thought it might help. His level of organization, thoughtful intelligence, and great sense of humor made for an amazing story teller that often made it difficult to leave a conversation. His kindness towards the neighborhood kids was unparalleled. His steep driveway was the optimal place for scooters, skateboards, bikes, and anything with wheels to catch maximum speed so he'd often come outside to find the minis in his garage or rolling down his driveway and rather than kick them off he'd watch, laugh, and encourage them. He'd share his fetch time with Noah (his black lab) so the kids could play and learn how to throw the frisbee. His love and knowledge of plants was always shared generously with the local green thumbs. He was the ultimate boater with decades of experience in Tampa Bay, looked out for everyone with the mentality of a family member, and set an exceptional example of how to live life to the fullest. He will be sorely missed, but never forgotten. Pictured below are photos of him jumping into the Halloween spirit during prime candy time.

“ Joe Moore was always a compassionate loving man. Eager to help his fellow man any way needed. He also had a funny side and made everyone feel comfortable because he never met a stranger. I knew him in excess of 45years. Sleep on my friend, you will be missed.

Mike and I met Joe and Joanne on a fishing trip to Chilco Lake in British Columbia years ago. We hit it off as if we'd always known each other! Joe and Mike fished together and had a great time! We will always remember Joe's sense of humor and how fun he was to be around. We went to Florida to visit Joe and Joanne, I'll always remember a photo of Joe standing in the water with a beer and a big smile on another fishing trip we shared. Joe was a caring and kind person and always wanted to help others. We are greatly saddened by Joe's passing, and he is in the arms of Jesus now. We will really miss Joe and pray for Joanne in the difficult loss of her dear husband. Our fond and fun memories of times with Joe will always bring smiles to our faces, and gratitude for the gift of knowing Joe.

When my mother-in-law was no longer able to live alone we had to leave our live aboard life to take care of her. We didn't know many people in the neighborhood but Joe was one of our first friends. He came to her 100th birthday celebration like an old friend! Always a smile on his face. He will be greatly missed.
