“ So many wonderful memories of this special lady, my dear Aunt Jo. As a child, I idolized her. She was that “larger than life” relative I was instantly drawn to. She’d greet us with a high pitched scream and the warmest, tightest embrace. She had the exceptional quality of making everyone feel special. I loved her infectious laugh, her generous spirit and the joy for life she exuded. I loved her rascal, often outrageous, irreverent nature (She brought (and made us watch!) a video of her dancing to Shania Twain’s “Just Like A Woman” the night of my mother’s funeral; and had us all in stitches with her jokes and stories - just the tonic we all needed!). When she visited me decades ago in the UK, she told everyone who would listen how much she “just loved that Princess Diana.” The last time we stayed with her in Orlando, she knocked on our bedroom door calling “You-who” at 6.30 am to remind us mass started at 8am. She knew precisely where to find Trader Joe’s $3.99 wine. You couldn’t leave her house without a food parcel - fried artichokes, her amazing meatballs, pasta al forno, banana bread. Our future visits to Florida won’t be the same without you Aunt Jo! I’ll miss you forever. Cindyxx

“ When I was hired at Lake Weston Elementary Jo took me under her wing. We became very good friends. We played bunco, went to a Doobie Brothers concert together, and many lunches. Jo was an amazing lady what I remember most was her love of family, her Italian heritage, care for friends, and last, but not least was her awesome laugh. She could light up a room. Heaven gained an angel.
