“ Pat Ellis bennett - Aunt posted a condolence Justin's mother is the daughter of my precious brother who has left us 6 years ago. I never got to know Justin. There were miles between for many years and the highways separated them from us. But I know what a great person he was because he came from a wonderful mother Judy who always put her children first. Sadness in our hearts. Jessica may God bless and keep you and give you strength to get thru this and your precious little child. Love aunt patty. Indiana.

“ Stefanie - Childhood Friends posted a condolence Jessica, Justin, and I spent a brief time in high school together in Fountain City, Indiana. Who would have known that many moons later Justin and Jessica would find each other 1,000 miles away from our small home town and unite their hearts into one with a love that is so pure and everlasting. Justin will live on in our hearts forever and be missed every single day. Jessica, if you are reading this- there isn't a second that goes by that your not in my thoughts. You my dear, are without a doubt an incredibly strong willed woman and have dealt with more heartbreak than a person should ever be allowed. My heart aches for you. I love you all and I will be thinking of you always. Kiss your husband one more time and tell him you love him. For he is now your guardian angel and saving grace. Never say goodbye-- Just "I'll be seeing you." OXOXO, Stefanie Hammock
