I wish that the light in your heart could have shined bright enough to guide your way with the faith and hope as well that you are always safe with the love of the lord. You now have no more suffering and I am at peace that you have found peace with any pain that you might have felt with the steps you made on the path of your life, may you always shine down on us and smile the smile that used to glow an entire room with you there! ~~ Melissa

Hello Janice, I am very very sorry for your loss. I often wondered, hoped , and prayed that Kim would find the light in her heart that I saw within her. I tried very hard when she came to Connecticut to help her with that, but her love and loss with Chuck exceeded that. I am very sad, but also at peace knowing that she is with the lord now, and all her suffering is gone, and she is a beautiful angel now with that glowing light more beautiful now then ever, may God bless her soul and keep her safe. ~~~ Melissa

“ We will shed tears because she's gone but let's also remember to smile because she lived and cherish all she left in each of us. Our hearts are empty, yet full of the love we shared. The stars now have a new meaning, they are openings to heaven where the love of our loved ones pours through and shines down upon us to let us know they are happy. I believe she wants us to smile, love and remember that none of us are promised tomorrow.
