“ *Daddy,
I don't know where to start, I keep telling myself it's just a bad dream. I miss you so much already and don't know what to do without you. You were always there for us no matter what, you would do anything and everything you could for us or anyone and I can't thank you enough. You were such a strong, supportive, loyal, joyful person and hearing all these stories of all the lives you've touched makes me so proud and honored to be your daughter. I couldn't have asked for anyone better! You've made me such a strong, independent person and taught me to stand on my own. You are my hero and have taught me so much, I promise to continue to make you proud. I hope you are spending as much time with Aria before she makes her way to us. I only wish you were here to hold her and walk me down the aisle. I will always be a daddy's girl and you will forever be in my heart. Until we meet again your memories have become my heartbeats, which means I am thinking of you all the time just to stay alive.. i miss you and love you more than anything daddy.
Love, your babygirl*

“ What comes to mind when I look back at memories was when Larry and Cody had got -ten into a makeup case of mine and found my talcum powder! I walked into the bedroom and all I could see was talcum powder everywhere and all over the kids! My mouth fell open and Melvin and I laughed so hard. They were covered from head to toe in powder. My room smelled really good but it sure was hard to clean up. I don't remember if Deana was in there but I remember 2 little boys covered in powder! Larry was a real sweet boy an on the quiet side sometimes. He sure did love his Nanny and Uncle Melvin. He has always been very dear in my heart and I love them all with all of my heart.

I just came across this site. It has now been a month since Larry's passing. We recall the wonderful time we shared in Alaska with the Fuls family. We always watched in awe as it was so apparent how much he loved his children. Not only his children, but friends and other family. His soul will never leave your side. What a wonderful Father he was. It was an honor to know him, and he will be missed by all. We will all see him again one day. Rest in peace, Larry. God needed you more. We all love you and will remember you always. What wonderful memories!
