“ I loved this very special lady, she was a mom to me. I met her when I was 15 years old and had the privilege of being at the business end of her "eyebrow" and a recipient of her wise words. She was indeed an example of grace, dignity and strength. Good 'ole mom you were an inspiration to me and one of the most wonderful people I have met in this life. I know daddy-o is filling you in on all the corny jokes he has been saving up to tell you. You will be forever loved and remembered.

“ Grandmother was the personification of dignity and elegance. She was always generous in both thought and action. She set a wonderful example for her family of how live life - to accept both the good and the bad with grace. She seemed to do this effortlessly. She was very much loved by her family and friends, and will be greatly missed.

“ I didn't know Mrs. Brennan that well. I only met her once but what a stately southern woman. And very wise. What I will take with me is one of her pearls of wisdom...A lady never leaves the house without lipstick on.... Thank you Mrs. Brennan.
