“ There are so many memories to share. I remember many trips. We always talked about the one to Spain where she wrote a play we performed for the group and the way we missed the plane and our luck in getting on the next flight. I remember our trip to China, our mah Jong games, the Sunday movies and dinner afterwards. I remember her great kindness in caring for my grand daughter.

I remember the many crafts, painting wine glasses together and the million bags she made for everyone.

So many memories. I feel I will have a guardian angel. Lynn never forgets her friends.

“ I remember how nice she always looked. And her prom dresses that she and her mother found together. She really was a good daughter and wonderful mom.
