“ One of Tito Boying's last posts on Facebook was a link to the video of Julianna (our daughter's) birthday party. He was very active on the site, posting check-ins of his trips to Starbucks, pictures of animals on their yard, and of course his precious Aria, posts we will miss now that he's gone.

You are no longer in pain and finally at home with the Lord.

Say hi to Nanay Angge, Mamay Miguel, Marilet, Tito Dupong and our dear Imman for me. ❤️❤️❤️

“ I've been trying to find the right words, but in times like this, the best that can be done is to give love and show love in this time of loss. Boying has been apart of my life for over half of my life, ever since I became friends with Sharon. From the days of him driving Sharon and I around before we could drive to the more recent days of seeing the joy he had when spending time with his Aria. She is and always will be his Aria. Many momories and lot of laughter. Boying had a great laugh, which I will never forget. I'm ever so grateful that He and Gilda gave me my best friend, my sister, Sharon. I pray that you are at rest Boying and although my dad never had the chance to know you, I hope that you get a chance to meet you in heaven and that you share a laugh together. Keep watch over your girls. Rest now and be blessed. ❤️
