

Marilyn Louise Highsmith

April 5, 1956 - September 20, 2015

Marilyn Louise Highsmith bounded into this life on April 5, 1956 in Macon, Georgia, the third child of Edwin McKoy and Marilyn Rogers Highsmith. Her childhood photos and family confirm that Lynn was happy to be here. As Lynn grew into a beautiful young woman, her relationships with her family also grew and she picked up friends like some people pick flowers - in abundance!

Her family and friends were so very dear to Lynn. She loved taking photos at every occasion, making sure people received copies. She remembered birthdays and shared holidays by sending cards, always with personal note or "Thought for the Day." She also loved to reminisce about people in her life and her trips back to Georgia to visit family were some of her most cherished memories.

Lynn loved Terry. She loved music. She loved Christmas. She loved her pet Zoie. She delighted in her nephews and nieces and their children. She loved us. And we loved her.

“ I have many good memories with Lynn, dating back to Memorial Jr. High. I enjoyed getting reacquainted with her over the past couple years and admired her brave battle with this horrible disease. RIP, my friend. Thoughts and prayers are with your family.

My life will be forever changed, having had her in it. My heartfelt condolences to her beloved Terry, and Zoie, too, Rick, and her family of many, and all those who loved her. She will be sorely missed.*

“ Lynn was the sunshine at HG Arts. She was such a dear sweet soul who has made my years there a true pleasure. A strange thing happened on Monday at HG Arts. In the early afternoon the power went out and all of the staff had to go outside. After 45 minutes without power we were all told to leave for the day. The staff was told on Wed the sad news that Lynn had passed away on Monday. It occurred to me that when Lynn's heart stopped beating the heartbeat of HG died as well for the day. Power was out, lights went dark, staff sent home . . . She was the light and for that one day the light went dark. It makes perfect sense. You will forever be in my heart and your sunshine will live on in me always. Donna Solomon

“ I miss you so my dearest friend. My prayers go out to Terry and your family. After only 35 years with you in it my life certainly won't be the same without you in it. There is another star in the Heavens.
