My parents built our home among the citrus and oak trees of Winter Park in 1963. My sister and I left Winter Park to live our lives in different places - my sister in Tennessee, myself in Georgia. My brother stayed in Winter Park and lived with my parents. As a consequence of the pandemic neither my sister or me or any of our families were able to attend our mother's funeral. I want to thank the Winter Park community, the neighbors, for involving my mother and my brother in their lives. Your love and support of my brother at this time is deeply appreciated.
