“ Danita - Daughter posted a condolence My mother taught love....through her amazing faith, strength and courage. She never let us down, not one of us, as far back as I can rememberâ€¦ Mom you always made the time no matter what was happening to be there, to talk, take away our pains, and quick to point us in the right direction. Just hearing your voice, your wonderful crazy sense of humor and that contagious laugh made all of our pains go away. Mom you worked so hard and did the best with everything you had, provided a home filled with unconditional love and welcomed everyone into your home. I knew when you told us you were tired and it was timeâ€¦. God was calling you home to carry on your amazing journey. I will grieve your physical beingâ€¦ Every time , I close my eyes I see your beautiful face, those green eyes that lit up the skies, a smile that no one will ever forget. I canâ€¦t imagine not seeing you, our talks, you pulling up in the drive with your PT cruiser loaded with goody bags for everyone in the back. You were one of a kind Mavis Joyce Lindsay Walker McGee Lovett, your bond will never be broken, you may gone, but never forgotten, because I know eventually, one day we will be together again. I have no regrets. Yes I am scared and I will work every day as you did to try to carry out this promise: Your faith in the lord above To carry on your contagious smile. The same one that would light up a room the minute you walked in. To laugh and never take myself to seriously. Love harder and forgive faster. To be content, in every sense of the word, and thankful for the air in my lungs, To try and have as big a heart as you did and be selfless. To know what I have, and know what I can give to others who are not as fortunate. I promise to never give up on others, even when I'm ready to give up on myself. I promise to be a friend and a mentor as you were. To be a helping hand, a shoulder to cry on or a set of ears to simply listen... You gave me courage when the day was done you will always be in this heart of mine My best friend till the end of time.....I Love you Mom!

“ Kimberly Heath-Carrico - Childrens friend posted a condolence To The Family of Mavis, I am Thankful you existed... you effected so many people in ways you experienced and in ways you will watch from Heaven. There will be throughout time a piece of your heart that carries on for generations to come, physically, spiritually and through the love you showed so many. A spirit that is blessed by God returns home to rest in the place he prepared for us where we return well, whole and without earthly deficiency. If heaven is love than truly you created a Heaven on earth...a safe place for your family to be nurtured and grow in the love of a beautiful mothers heart. Prayers can not fill the space in the hearts of those who love you but it can serve as a special way for them to remember that light of yours that shined for all to witness and experience here on earth. Your children tell it best when they speak of your presence in their lives and that of their children. A legacy far more than riches is found in the tender heart of a mother and the presence of the lord in her love. Blessings and prayers for you all in your time of need and special prayers for Danita, Natalie, Dana and their lovely Family.

“ Tiffany - Grand Daughter posted a condolence Nannie, I never thought about the day I would be writing to you through an obituary. It still doesn't feel real to me. I keep waiting for a text to come through saying "when Dakota" and only I knew that meant "When is Dakota's next baseball game " . Your text always made me chuckle...Your an amazing woman and you have no idea how much you affected my life for 25 years. You are and forever will be my Nannie. I will continue to have 4 hour conversations with you about absolutley nothing lol. I live through what you have taught me in my life so far and that was to be strong, believe in yourself, and do not ever care what someone thinks about it. 25 years just doesnt seem long enough to spend with you. But spread your wings Nannie, get ready for the next time we all meet again but until then...I love you and everyday I miss you. Untill we meet again my beautiful grandma....
